Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

Apologies for being inattentive---I simply hadn't registered that Roy had already posted the Farmer's Almanac table, the most inclusive of all these lists. But isn't that virtually proof positive that the Spading Moon is in March, called there (among other things) Plow Moon?
