Just noticed that the Summer 1999 issue of Extrapolation (40:2) contains a piece by John Gerlach entitled

'The rhetoric of an impossible object: gods, chems, and science fantasy in Gene Wolfe's 'Book of the Long Sun'.

Not having easy access to this journal I downloaded it from the website of www.northernlight.com. This is a service that provides pay-per-view access to news, business, and scholarly articles. I downloaded the piece for 2.95 dollars. Note that it looked as though Mantis' Posthistory 101 piece is also available for paid download, for those who haven't got access to 'Extrapolation'.

I must admit to being very busy so I haven't read it yet. I noted that the footnotes credit our little community. Are you out there John Gerlach?

Will be adding this piece to the Ultan's Library bibliography as soon as possible.
