Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

There seems to be at least one message about ES that I haven't received. I am still interested in being included.

Probably that was my message. (Looks like urth doesn't like cc's.) I'll resend it to urth, which I'm on now -- I hadn't realized that the Short Sun discussion Alex reported was off on a separate list.

Not too long ago I set up a Yahoo! email group discussion that could be used as a forum for discussing Crowley's works.

Sounds potentially useful, though I'm happy with urth for now myself.
