Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

I had missed William Ansley's mention of this back in April, and I thought that other people who might find it of interest had missed it, too.

There is a Yahoo! Clubs mailing list dedicated to John Crowley. The name is the utterly prosaic "johncrowleyreaders", though it does bear "The Invisible College" as a subtitle. Traffic is low, currently, but there have been a few interesting posts, including a pointer to the index of the Crowley papers at University of Texas-Austin.

You can view the archives (such as they are) at <http://clubs.yahoo.com/clubs/johncrowleyreaders>, and can join for free by first registering with Yahoo! Clubs at <http://clubs.yahoo.com>.
