

lacerations?

The Urth list — 2 messages, 2 voices, 21 Mar 2002

<https://urth.darkrealm.vip/thread/urth/3058>

Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

Gage Kerrigan — 21 Mar 2002, 01:41

Far from bloody shreds 'twas more a mild laceration disputing only your contention that mankind did not make it in space at all because the idea is flatly contradicted both in the reported history in TBotNS
and in the person of Jonas.

Oh? I said that? Actually...

Perhaps certain people were so emotionally disturbed by my claim of "the death of the space program", which I still believe to be true, that they did not catch the COMPLETE following idea... "humanity would leave the planet when Urth no longer supported life." which, I feel, indicates my knowledge of space-bound humanity, but only after many years of procrastination/rationalization. I don't know many people that would mistake leaving later for not leaving at all, but hey...

Is there any evidence in TBotNS of continued lacerations causing bloody shreds to detach themselves from the client, or can we just call that common sense among torturers?

«LORD ESN»

once again, apologies to those of you who were not involved, most likley as the result of non-selective reading within my previous post.

=====

G Willickers

aka

Gage Kerrigan

matthew.malthouse — 21 Mar 2002, 11:19 · follows Gage Kerrigan

On 21/03/2002 01:41:48 Gage Kerrigan wrote: Far from bloody shreds 'twas more a mild laceration
disputing only your contention that mankind did not make it in space at all because the idea is flatly=20
contradicted both in the reported history in TBotNS
and in the person of Jonas.

Oh? I said that? Actually...

Perhaps certain people were so emotionally disturbed by my claim of "the death of the space program", which I still believe to be true, that they did not catch the COMPLETE following idea... "humanity would leave the planet when Urth no longer supported life." which, I feel, indicates my knowledge of space-bound humanity, but only after many years of procrastination/rationalization. I don't know many people that would mistake leaving later for not leaving at all, but hey...

But this isn't consistent with what we read in TBotNS. Humanity did go into space - had done so long before - and the planet still supports life.

Matthew