Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

Third, do a search for Jordan's website (I don't have the address at hand, but my own search found it easily) and read his essay in this very subject.

Hey, that's my web site. :-) Jim graciously let me put his interview up.
Or are you refering to something else?
