Want to have a memory like Sev?
Want to record every day and play it back and forwards
again and again any way you want?
Right now it's only 2000 images a day, but AV feed and parametrics like GPS, environment, etc. can't be too far off. Then we can all have a true "life-logging" tool. Blogs of the future...

That's more like Schizmatrix, IIRC, where stars with interesting lives sell their blogs. Though turning to Wolfe, Number 5 may have spent his nights watching lots of old video of himself ;)
