Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

I might have missed the answer to this in the list archives, but what happened to the Borski website with all the FIFTH HEAD stuff on it? It's not been available since I first heard about it, which was just a few months ago. Thanks.
