Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

Let this be a lesson - beware of Quechup! It's not Bryan's fault that this message went out; he probably didn't know when he signed up that Quechup automatically spams everyone in a registrant's address book. Here's more information:
