All right--Geoff comes through! (Somebody from "here" got through to "there" and came back.)

Re: Timeline of 1000 to 2000 years in the future--great! Let's try it out and see what we get. (For starters, that period isn't in the zodiacal age of Pisces, so figure the spring equinox in Aquarius; star positions will not be as radically different from our own as would be the case in other models we've been considering; if 2000 years from today, then each post-historical epoch could reduce down to a "shrimpy" chiliad, i.e., one thousand years each; and so on.)

Re: more inhum(a/i?) on the Whorl. Ha! Ha! Well, that takes a load off of Quetzal's shoulders.

P.S. Geoff, no pressure or anything, but when are you going to complete the next stage (CLAW) of your character index? I hope you haven't given up!
