if the jungle hut proselytes with isangoma are any indication then christ existed in urth's past. Also, that picture of Buzz Aldron and the old airless moon indicates at least some of our history is urth history. Christ would be an odd elision.

Or an elite eidolon?

IIRC we established that there is no picture of the original moon landing that matches the composition described. It's either a mistake on Wolfe's part, a painting (perhaps by Michael Collins or Alan Bean) rather than a photograph, or a hint that Urth and Earth have divergent histories.

Or, to be pedantic, it might be a photograph from some later visit to Lune. Maybe it's a picture from the Chinese landing in 2041.
