

PEACE [Digest urth.v002.n002]

The Urth list — 1 messages, 1 voices, 12 Jun 1997

<https://urth.darkrealm.vip/thread/urth/57>

Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

John Bishop — 12 Jun 1997, 13:55

It was about three-quarters of the way through the book that I suddenly realized that the house was non-physical, and was essentially his memory ("What house has all the significant rooms from your life in it, in unchangable form?").

It was at the end that I figured out he was already dead. The reference to the story of the Chinese youth was the clue.

But where do you get murders from?

I like the puzzle aspects of Wolfe's work, if I get them, but sometimes I don't (e.g., what's really going on in There_are_Doors? Is the guy just a psychotic who isn't taking his medicine?).

-John