

Dream Fava's hair

The Urth list — 3 messages, 2 voices, 29 Aug 2010

<https://urth.darkrealm.vip/thread/urth/5731>

Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

Dave Tallman — 29 Aug 2010, 15:59

Here are some quotes about the hair-color of the dream Fava. Descriptions of her hair color when she's not a dream projection are about her wig and don't count.

IGJ p. 194:

"The chamber that confined us was so dimly lit that I could scarcely make out its walls; but as well as I could judge, only Fava had changed at all. And even Fava had changed only subtly, for she had always seemed an apple-cheeked child just short of puberty, with long, light brown hair and a winning smile."

Hair color: light brown. Special circumstances: very dim lighting would make colors hard to see.

RttW p. 85:

He turned and saw Spider...in conversation with small girls in starched frocks...

He asked politely how he could find Hyacinth.

"Down there," the blond girl pointed. "She's down there like Spider and me."

The dark girl nodded. "Down there where you're going, and she can't ever come back. Take a cake for the dog."

Hair color: blond Special circumstances: dream on the Whorl, before he met Mora and Fava in real life. Is this a time-travel dream projection? I think so. The conversation indicates Fava and Hyacinth are both dead.

RttW pp. 23-26

"A little girl named Mora, and another one..."

...

"There was a little girl hiding under there already. At first I thought it was the one with yellow hair, but it wasn't." ... "Then I thought it was the other one, Mora. Only it wasn't her either."

Hair color: yellow. Special circumstances: this is Hide's dream. Hide is not as smart or observant as Silk.

RttW pp. 94-95.

The deadcoach dream. Mora and Fava are there, but no hair colors are described.

Given the evidence, I would have to say that the dream Fava was blond, yellow-haired. The only case where she is described differently is in the cell on Green, but that was in bad light. If so, we can only make her Hyacinth by dyeing her hair.

James Wynn — 30 Aug 2010, 12:40 · in reply to Dave Tallman

Dave,

Good on you for fingering these. I'll respond about this tonight.

u+16b9

Dave Tallman -- Here are some quotes about the hair-color of the dream Fava. Descriptions of her hair color when she's not a dream projection are about her wig and don't count.

IGJ p. 194:

"The chamber that confined us was so dimly lit that I could scarcely make out its walls; but as well as I could judge, only Fava had changed at all. And even Fava had changed only subtly, for she had always seemed an apple-cheeked child just short of puberty, with long, light brown hair and a winning smile."

Hair color: light brown. Special circumstances: very dim lighting would make colors hard to see.

RttW p. 85:

He turned and saw Spider...in conversation with small girls in starched frocks...

He asked politely how he could find Hyacinth.

"Down there," the blond girl pointed. "She's down there like Spider and me."

The dark girl nodded. "Down there where you're going, and she can't ever come back.

Take a cake for the dog."

Hair color: blond *Special circumstances: *dream on the Whorl, before he met Mora and Fava in real life.

Is this a time-travel dream projection? I think so. The conversation indicates Fava and Hyacinth are both dead.

RttW pp. 23-26

"A little girl named Mora, and another one..."

...

"There was a little girl hiding under there already. At first I thought it was the one with yellow hair, but it wasn't."

...

"Then I thought it was the other one, Mora. Only it wasn't her either."

Hair color: yellow. Special circumstances: this is Hide's dream. Hide is not as smart or observant as Silk.

RttW pp. 94-95.

The deadcoach dream. Mora and Fava are there, but no hair colors are described.

Given the evidence, I would have to say that the dream Fava was blond, yellow-haired. The only case where she is described differently is in the cell on Green, but that was in bad light. If so, we can only make her Hyacinth by dyeing her hair.

Dave Tallman — 30 Aug 2010, 15:34 · follows James Wynn

James Wynn wrote:

Good on you for fingering these. I'll respond about this tonight.

If we establish yellow hair for Fava's soul-self, that opens the possibility of a different Fava/Silk connection. Silk has yellow hair, and that color seems to be fairly rare in Viron. Could Fava's soul have come from Silk? She's nicer than many inhuma (compare her to Jahlee). Like Silk, she did well at school both in both academic subjects and athletics. The Rajan was drawn to save her life in her early childhood on Green. (Wolfean time-loops require starters -- if she never survived childhood the Rajan could never have heard her story and inserted himself into it).

Another possible soul source is Patera Pike, if the clone theory is correct. Pike knew something about the inhumi and how to ward them off, knowledge he passed on to Silk.