

Short Sun Notes: New Love

The Urth list — 3 messages, 2 voices, 25 Nov 2013

<https://urth.darkrealm.vip/thread/urth/6466>

Exported from an unofficial mirror of a public mailing list. Copyright in each message remains with the person who wrote it. Email addresses are obscured as `user at host`, the form the original archive published. This file was rebuilt from parsed fields rather than retained headers, so it is faithful in content but not byte-exact.

Andrew Mason — 25 Nov 2013, 21:59

Once again, a very happy Feast of Saint Katharine to you all!

I realise that it's now a year since I started my Short Sun notes, and they are not progressing as fast as they should. I don't have time for anything large right now, but here is a small one.

In OBW, a soothsayer visits Gaon and makes what at the time seems an unlikely set of predictions for the Rajan: "I would lead three towns not my own to victory, would be tried for my life, would return as a stranger to my sons" native place, find new love, and so on and so forth. Most of these are fulfilled; he does lead three towns not his own to victory, he is tried for his life, and he does return as a stranger to his sons' native place, at least if we take "him" to be Horn (and possibly also if we take him to be Pas). Clearly the soothsayer was more accurate than one might have thought. But in that case, what does "new love" refer to?

Dan'I Danehy-Oakes — 25 Nov 2013, 22:00 · in reply to Andrew Mason

Seawrack.

On Mon, Nov 25, 2013 at 1:59 PM, Andrew Mason <andrew.mason53 at gmail.com>

wrote:

Once again, a very happy Feast of Saint Katharine to you all!

I realise that it's now a year since I started my Short Sun notes, and they are not progressing as fast as they should. I don't have time for anything large right now, but here is a small one.

In OBW, a soothsayer visits Gaon and makes what at the time seems an unlikely set of predictions for the Rajan: "I would lead three towns not my own to victory, would be tried for my life, would return as a stranger to my sons" native place, find new love, and so on and so forth. Most of these are fulfilled; he does lead three towns not his own to victory, he is tried for his life, and he does return as a stranger to his sons' native place, at least if we take "him" to be Horn (and possibly also if we take him to be Pas). Clearly the soothsayer was more accurate than one might have thought. But in that case, what does "new love" refer to?

Andrew Mason — 26 Nov 2013, 19:46 · follows Dan'I Danehy-Oakes

(Resending this in the hope that the correct title will make it more perspicuous)

Dan'I Danehy-Oakes wrote:

Seawrack.

But he (Horn) met Seawrack long before the prophecy.