Would someone kindly point out in which chapter this happens?

Wolfe is human and occasionally makes mistakes, but copy editors are far more often to blame for reversing his decisions (turning Horn's first person entrance to a third person one - this infuriated Wolfe when he found out - his artistic vision requires Horn's "I" at that point in the narrative of Exodus.)

At the end of Chapter 13 I believe, though I don't have my book of Exodus in front of me at this time, when Silk is dining: "At that moment I burst into the room..."
