Got this today from Folio. Expensive, for sure, but it's good to see Wolfe getting published by them.

Of course, what I really want is to see a Library of America <<https://loa.org/>> edition of the oeuvre. I can even imagine the first volume, with the Book of the New Sun and The Urth of the New Sun and related short stories. Text established by Marc Aramini. To be followed by the rest of the Solar Cycle...

This publication, limited to just 750 numbered sets signed by the author, the illustrator and the introducer, is also stunning to look at.

The bindings are striking, and with black page edges, decorative initial letters, two-colour printing throughout and a cloth-covered slipcase blocked in pale gold and lined in silver mirrored paper, this must be the ultimate collector's edition.

As you may know, Gene Wolfe sadly died just a few weeks ago; we hope this publication of his greatest work is a fitting tribute.
