Well, I'm very impressed. I think we've done a great job in coming up with a good spread of questions. We've got little nit-picky technical inquiries, and broad thematic questions as well. We don't sound too much like we're trying to do our thesis research, but we don't sound too much like trekkies, either. A nice mix. I can't wait to see the answers from these.

Gee, so what do we talk about until we hear the responses?
